PREFACE TO

CHRIST CHURCH PARISH)
PENSACOLA, FLORIDA.

2045388-

These records from BOOK D of Christ Church Parish in Pensacola, Florida are the earliest extant from that parish. In 1927 Book C was available, but cannot now be located. This Book D and subsequent books are in the vault of the Watson Agency, 31 West Garden St., Pensacola where they are in the personal charge of James C. Watson. In this book are records from 1850 to 1856.

Only the First Baptist Church has records of churches which antedate this book of the Episcopal church. The Baptist records go back to 1848 when it was founded.

Book D is in excellent condition. It is written in longhand and every page is intact and legible.

A history of Christ Church Parish, Pensacola, was written by Miss Julia J. Yonge covering the years 1827-1927. A copy is in the DAR Washington Library.

Book D is largely the work of Rev. J.J.Scott who served the parish from 1848-1853. Rev. David Kerr served for three months early in 1853. Rev. David Dubois Flower served from July 1, 1853 till his death from yellow fever in September 1853. Dr. Scott again took over and served until 1889. Dr. Scott also served as USA Chaplain at Fort Barrancas, Florida and as missionary priest to St. John's in Warrington, to Milton, and to Blackwater Bay.

Dr. Scott is careful to use the word "servant" rather than "colored". For brevity the abbreviation "col" is used in the index to indicate such persons. Occasionally the word "slave" is used. There is no way to know if "servant" was a free person of color, or a slave. Before the War Between the States which this BOOK D covers, both types of negroes lived in Pensacola.

The church where these records were made still stands and is now the Pensacola Public Library on Seville Square, its original site.

These records copied and indexed by Pensacola H.S.D.A.R.
Miss Martha Herritt
(Mrs.J.C.) Lola Lee Daniell Bruington

Book D is in excellent condition. It is written in longhand and every page is intact and legible.

A history of Christ Church Parish, Pensacola, was written by Miss Julia J. Vonge covering the years 1827-1927. A copy is in the DAR-Washington Library.

Book D is largely the work of Rev. J. J. Scott who served the parish from 1852-1855. Rev. David Kerr served for three months early in 1855. Rev. David Dubois Flower served from July 1, 1855 till his death from yellow fever in September 1855. Dr. Scott again took over and served until 1858. Dr. Scott also served as USA Chaplain at Fort Barrancas, Florida and as missionary priest to St. John's in Harrington, to Hilton, and to Blackwater Bay.

Dr. Scott is careful to use the word "servant" rather than "colored". For brevity the abbreviation "col" is used in the index to indicate such persons. Occasionally the word "slave" is used. There is no way to know if "servant" was a free person of color, or a slave. Before the war between the States when this BOOK D covers, both types of negroes lived in Pensacola.

The church where these records were made still stands and is in the Pensacola Public Library on Beville Square, the original site.

These records copied and indexed by Pensacola H.S.D.A.R. Miss Martha Kerster (Mrs. J.C.) Lois Lee Daniel Brington

THEORY OF THE EARTH'S CRUST

CHAPTER I. THE EARTH'S CRUST AND ITS HISTORY.

The crust of the earth is the outermost layer of the planet, and is composed of various rocks and minerals. It is the layer that we live on, and it is the layer that we see. The crust is the part of the earth that is visible to us, and it is the part that we can touch. It is the part that we can see, and it is the part that we can feel. The crust is the part of the earth that is visible to us, and it is the part that we can touch. It is the part that we can see, and it is the part that we can feel.

Rev. J. Jackson Scott, Rector

Amt. carried forward	217.88
Contributed towards the purchase of a new Com. Service	41.69
	<hr/> $ 259.57

Special Records

The new Communion Service consists of seven pieces - 2 chalices - 2 patens - 1 flaggon - 1 almsbason and 1 spoon. All of them are lined with gold but the alms bason and appropriately inscribed but the spoon. The whole fitted in a walnut chest. The service was ordered by Rev. J. J. Scott, Rector of the Parish. It was made by the "New York Ecclesiastical Society" - under the direction of Rev. J. H. Hopping, Jr., at a cost of $350. at the factory - and $10. express, insurance, transportation, etc. making the entire cost - $360.00.

The contributors to the new Communion Service are the following persons:

Mrs. Ann Paul Chase	$100
Mrs. Mary Goode Scott	100
Mrs. Judith Caldwell	100
Rev. J. J. Scott	18.31

From the communion alms appropriated by the Rector $41.69

Total $360.

Mrs. Caldwell's subscription was given to the Rector to make use of at his discretion and he thought this a proper use for it.

Deducting the sum of $41.69, the donors sent their humble contribution to the vestry of Christ Church, Pensacola, through Hon. Walker Anderson, accompanied by a letter from Rev. J. J. Scott stating in substance that our only wish concerning it is that it shall never be alienated from the Lord's service in the peculiar use for which it was intended.

J.J. Scott

During the connection of the undersigned with this parish for a period of four and a half years the Ch. edifice has been thoroughly repaired costing $650, a new organ purchased costing, including all expenses about $600. A marble font purchased in New York, costing $50, and lamps procured from New Orleans costing $100, and a communion service as above reporting costing $360, and lastly, a plank walk has been constructed to the church costing $45. Total amount $1805.00.

For an account of the spiritual and other matters connected with Ch. Parish, see the record and Convention Journals, as well as Resolutions of the vestry on my final resignation.

P.S. The front blind was put to the Ch. cost unknown.
